Luke 2:19 (NAB) “And Mary kept all these things, reflecting on them in her heart.”

How do we evangelize? PRACTICE THE DISCIPLINE OF THEOLOGICAL REFLECTION

It is so easy to be a Sunday Catholic – celebrate the Eucharist with our family, spend an hour or less with the affairs of God and then off we go to our next schedule. For most of us, it is living in compartmentalized lives, blocked off by set schedules and time commitments each day of the week, clearly marked in our calendars.

But there should more to life than this. What is my purpose? What significance am I living for? What legacy am I living behind? Is the material wealth all there is to life? As Catholics, how do we allow the Scripture and our Catholic faith impact our daily lives? How do we bring the Gospel into our homes and workplace?

This is the importance of Theological Reflection - an attempt to see deeply into life experiences. It is a tool to help us reflect in ways that allow faith to touch our lives and our lives to touch our faith; a tool to help us integrate life and faith.
