Living Catholic in the 808: World Communications Sunday

On the seventh Sunday of Easter the Gospel reading says “I made known to them your name and I will make it known, that the love with which you loved me may be in them”. Here is a testimony from one of the disciples that we can model too.

Pope Francis has designated this Sunday as World Communications Day. The theme is “We are members one of another: From network community to human communities.” He calls us individually to share our faith through our social media as a powerful example of how we can make known to the world how Jesus is present in our own lives. Reflect on what are you projecting through your online presence. Does it make known to others the name of Jesus and the love he has for you and the world? Find online faith communities that model the message of faith, love and hope in Jesus that you can share with your followers.

“That the communication of thy faith may become effectual by the acknowledging of every good thing which is in you in Christ Jesus.”
Philemon 1:6
